REDGUARD BEGAN AS A BOX 4 YOU IN 1998 AND REBRANDED TO THE PRODUCTS SHOWN ABOVE IN 2014.

Jeff Lange, founder of RedGuard, believes the success of a company depends entirely on the people. “We see that as a vital part of our business along with the logistics and service to our clients. Each portable storage site serves as a staging facility to better serve our customers no matter where they are located.”

We are always looking for a value add opportunity — not just working with the simple metal box but also making modifications and value adds to that simple metal box that would make a difference. We have been redefining “the box” ever since. With U.S. manufacturing capabilities and a growing distribution system, our goal is to offer the best customer service in the industry.

A BRIEF HISTORY:

1998: Jeff Lange started a small container-based portable storage company in Wichita, KS.

2005: An explosion at British Petroleum in 2005 left 15 dead and 170 injured. RedGuard was asked to develop blast resistant structures, and SafetySuite and LeaseFleet were born.

2008: The first viewing bunker was sold to the military and CoverSix ballistic and blast resistance boxes became a reality.

2013: BC&R was acquired in NE Kansas and dock-height trailer storage was added to the SiteBox Storage Fleet.

2014: SiteBox Storage expanded to the Houston and Oklahoma City markets.

2015: SiteBox Storage opened in the Dallas-Ft. Worth market

2015: Modular buildings were added to the RedGuard family under the VersaBilt brand name.

LEAVE THE LOGISTICS TO US.

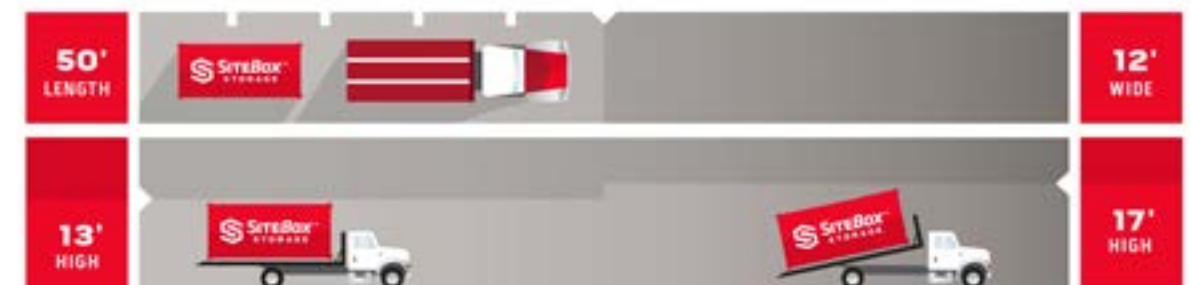

Getting your container on site is quick and easy. Give us a call, or go online and we'll have it delivered exactly where you want it, when you want it. It's all thanks to a highly refined transportation system and strategically located SiteBox Storage distribution hubs.

TILT-BED TRACTOR TRAILER | 40 FOOT UNIT

WRECKER TRUCK | 20 FOOT UNIT

HOW MUCH ROOM DO WE NEED TO DELIVER YOUR UNIT?

A 20-foot container needs approximately 50 to 100 feet of straight clearance, depending on the type of delivery equipment available in your area. A 40-foot container would need approximately 100 feet of straight clearance and an approximate width of 12 feet.
